

Robin Richardson, brief CV

Born and at school in Birmingham, 1936-1955

National service, 1955-57

Modern Languages at Cambridge, 1957-60

Teacher in secondary schools, Kent and Bristol, 1960-69

Research on moral and religious education, Oxford, 1969-72

Director of World Studies Project, London, 1973-79

Adviser for multicultural education, Berkshire, 1979-85

Chief inspector of schools, London Borough of Brent, 1985-90

Director of Runnymede Trust, 1991-96

Co-director of Insted Consultancy, 1991-2012

Independent consultant and retired, since 2013

The illustration below dates from 1986, and was drawn from memory by a nursery school pupil in Brent. Nowadays the subject no longer wears glasses, and virtually never wears a tie.

